The Uptown Beat

This was essentially my first introduction to Graphic Design. Started my freshman year of highschool and lasting through my college career, the Uptown Beat was a self published music magazine that I produced. Towards the later issues the magazine was funded entirely by advertising from bands and record labels.

Additional Notes & Awards

- Independently creatively activate. Created PROCESS with a friend to have a creative outlet outside of a normal work environment. Our projects have been featured throughout the U.S. and various countries and have appeared in several publications and online sites (Juxtapoz, Behance, Fecal Face, Wooster Collective, Peel Magazine, and also interviewed by Print Magazine for the Mixtape Sticker).

- In addition to Process, we also have a resident column in Overspray Magazine, where we interview other artists on their process and how they work.

- Received an “Award of Excellence” from Graphic Design USA for the Princeton Tec Switchback packaging.

- Head judge/coordinator for Vocational Design competition (2005).

- Independent tutor for QuarkXPress, Adobe Illustrator, Adobe Photoshop, Adobe InDesign.

- Received the Young Persons Entrepreneur Award for publishing the Uptown Beat, presented by the New Jersey’s Hunterdon County Chamber of Commerce.

- PIA Certified.
