As a communications and design professional, my specialty is the management and offering of visionary insight on concept development, strategy, and execution of projects. In so doing, it is ensured that the final product meets the strategic communications objectives in keeping with quality expectations and standards of excellence. I consistently articulate the key essentials of the creative direction by adhering to a defined user-centric and brand conscious “process” that is adaptable to all manner of business and creative pursuits.

Focusing on the array of areas our industry has developed and pioneered, I've been able to fashion myself to work in a multidisciplinary environment that emphasizes a user-centric and brand conscious approach in the delivery of effective and engaging design solutions.

Specializations Communications Design, Identity/Brand Development, Events, Interactive and multimedia disciplines. I'm equally adept at creating user experiences in both print and web media.

Industries Automotive, Electronics, Financial Services, Non-Profits, Educational, Publishing and Entertainment
